A Letter From Blaine.

Transmitted to Congress By President Harrison.

CUSTOMS UNION RECOMMENDED.

He Wants Our Ports Thrown Open to All American Nations Who Admit Our Commerce Free of Duty—One Result of the International American Conference.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The president transmitted to congress yesterday the report and recommendations of the international conference on "Customs Union." The report upon the "Customs Union" adopted by the International American conference is accompanied by a letter of Mr. Blaine to the president, briefly reviewing the proceedings of the conference, which declared that partial reciprocity between the American republics was not only practicable, but must necessarily increase the trade and the development of the natural resources of the countries, and by accepting that system it would in all probability bring about as favorable results as those obtained by free trade among the different states of this nation.

The conference recommended, therefore, that the several governments represented negotiate reciprocity treaties upon such a basis as would be acceptable in each case. "Taking into consideration the special situations, conditions and interests of each country, and with a view to promote their common welfare."

"Only these," writes Mr. Blaine, "who have given the subject careful study realize the magnitude of the commerce of these sister nations. In 1888 the combined imports of Chili and the Argentine Republic reached the enormous sum of $333,127,698. The statistics of Chilean commerce for 1889 have not yet been received, but the statistics of the Argentine Republic for that year were $145,000,000. These imports consisted in the greater part of articles that could have been furnished by the manufacturers of the United States, yet in 1888, of the total of $233,000,000 imports, we contributed but $13,000,000, while England contributed $90,000,000, Germany $43,000,000 and France $24,000,000.

"With our extraordinary increase in proportion, and the even more extraordinary increase in material wealth, our progress in trade with South America has been strangely hindered and limited.

"In 1868 our total exports to all the world were $375,737,000, of which $53,197,000 went to Spanish America, 14 per cent.

"In 1888 our exports to all the world were $443,345,000, an increase of 100 per cent., while but $3,737,000 went to Spanish America, a little more than 9 per cent., and the greatest gain, $9,000,000, has been noticed during the last two years.

"It was the unanimous judgment of the delegates that our exports to those countries and to the other republics could be increased to a great degree by the negotiation of such treaties as are recommended by the conference. The practical every day experience of our merchants engaged in the trade demonstrates beyond a question that in all classes of merchandise which we have long and successfully produced for export they are able to compete with their European rivals in quality and in price, and the reiterated statements that our Latin-American neighbors do not buy of us because we do not buy of them, or because we tax their products, has been amply contradicted by the statistics of our commerce for a quarter of a century.

"The lack of means for reaching their markets has been the chief obstacle in the way of increased exports. The carrying trade has been controlled by European merchants who have forbidden an exchange of commodities. The merchandise we sell in South America is carried there in American ships, or foreign ships chartered by American commission houses. The merchandise we buy in South America is brought to us in European vessels that never take return cargoes, but sail for Liverpool, Havre, Bremen or Hamburg, with wheat, corn and cotton. There they load again with manufactured goods for the South American markets, and continue their triangular voyages paying for the food they are compelled to buy of us with the proceeds of the sale of their manufactures in markets that we could, would supply if we controlled the carrying trade.

"There is no direct steamship communication whatever between the United States and the Argentine Republic, and there are no direct banking facilities. The International American conference has earnestly recommended the establishment of both, but reciprocal exchanges of tariff concessions will be equally effective in stimulating commerce and increasing the export of the products, of which we have the largest surplus, not only to the progressive republic named, but to all the other American nations.

"The conference believed that, while great profit would come to all the countries if reciprocity treaties should be adopted, the United States would be by far the greatest gainer. Nearly all the articles we export to our neighbors are subjected to heavy customs taxes; so heavy in many cases as to prohibit their consumption by the masses of people. On the other hand more than 87 per cent. of our imports from Latin-America are admitted free, leaving but 12 per cent. upon which duties may be still removed. But mindful of fact that the United States has from time to time removed the duties from coffee, cocoa, India rubber, hides, cinchona, bark, dye and cabinet woods, and other Latin-

America products, our government may confidentially ask the concessions suggested. The increased exports would be drawn alike from our farms, our factories and our forests.

"None of Latin-American countries produce building lumber; the most of them are dependent upon foreign markets for their breadstuffs and provisions, and in few is there any opportunity or inclination for mechanical industry. The effect of such reciprocity would be felt in every portion of the land.

In closing his letter the secretary says: "Fifteen of seventeen republics with which we have been in conference have indicated by the votes of their representatives in their International American conference, and by other methods which it is not necessary to define, their desire to enter upon reciprocal commercial relations with the United States. The remaining two express equal willingness could they be assured that their advances would be favorably considered.

"To escape the delay and uncertainty of treaties, it has been suggested that a practical and prompt mode of testing the question was to submit an amendment to the pending tariff bill, authorizing the president to declare the ports of the United States free to all the products of any nation of the American hemisphere upon which no export duties are imposed, whenever and so long as such nation shall admit to its ports free of all National, provincial, state, municipal and other taxes, our flour, corn meal and other breadstuffs, preserved meats, fish, vegetables and fruits, cotton-seed oil, rice and other provisions, including all articles of food, lumber, furniture and other articles of wood, agricultural implements and machinery, mining and mechanical machinery, structural steel and iron, steel rails, locomotives, railway cars and supplies, street cars and related petroleum.

"I mention the particular articles because they have been most frequently referred to, as those with which a valuable exchange could be readily effected. The test could no doubt be profitably enlarged by a careful investigation of needs and advantages of both the home and foreign markets. The opinion was general among the foreign delegates that the legislation herein referred to would lead to the opening of new and profitable markets for the products of which we have so large a surplus, and thus invigorate every branch of agriculture and mechanical industry. Of course, the exchange involved in these propositions would be rendered impossible if congress, in its wisdom, should repeal the duty on sugar by direct legislation instead of allowing the same object to be attained by the reciprocal arrangement suggested."

RESCUERS STILL AT WORK.

A Fatal Hope That Some of the Men are Yet Alive.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 20.—The progress made by the rescuing party in the Mahoning mine has not been nearly so satisfactory as was hoped. The men are still working steadily, but there has been a great deal of fallen wreckage encountered.

Inspector Keighley has decided to attempt an entrance through another lead. Men will be put to work at once, and they will keep steadily at it in both chambers. It is thought the new heading may be more open.

General Manager Hazzard was seen by a reporter. "You may say," he said, "that there are men down in the mine alive. They have been heard from. We do not expect to reach them for several hours. They will be taken care of. The Catholic priests are down in the mines at the present time. They will stay there till the opening is made. I have ordered a corps of physicians to be at hand ready for anything. We don't want to let the people know outside, because the excitement would be too great. We will reach the men."

Last night Bert Worley came up out of the mine. He said that for some time the men at work in the Mahoning mine had not heard a sound. "We will not reach the mine before to-morrow," said Mr. Worley. "I am sure that only two men can work at a time where we are digging."

Of the hundreds who have gone through all phases of hope to despair there is one whose steadfast faith has been more than encouraging, even when the affair looked the blackest. David Davis, an old Welsh miner, was at one time entombed nine days in a mine in Cornwall, and his wife never gave up. She remembers that day, and should David Davis ever emerge from the mines here, he will find a woman calmly awaiting at the door to welcome him. She patiently repeats to all visitors that Davy will come, and no amount of reasoning or argument will make her believe that her husband is not alive and hoping for his final return as placidly as she awaits his coming.

HEAD END COLLISION.

Two Men Killed and Several Injured Near Atchison, Mo., Kan.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 20.—A special to The Star from Atchison, Kan., says: A head end collision occurred yesterday morning on the Kansas City, St. Joseph & Council Bluffs railway, about three miles east of Atchison, between the pay train and a freight train. L. W. Yeom, engineer of the pay train, was killed.

The injured are: Conductor Pritchard, of the pay train, badly bruised about head and shoulders; Joseph Hayward, back seriously injured; Dean Bartlett, assistant road master, ribs broken.

Both engines were telescoped and the tender of the freight engine was driven into a car of horses immediately behind it, killing eighteen of the animals. The accident is believed to have been caused by the engineer of the pay train supposing that the freight, which had almost come to a stop on the main track, was on the siding.

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

LIVELY DEBATE IN THE HOUSE.

The Silver Question Furnishes the Subject, and All Other Legislation Postponed On That Account—Eulogies Delivered in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The proceedings of the house yesterday opened with the expected fight over the reference of the silver bill. When the journal was read Mr. Mills, of Texas, objected to its approval on the ground that the clerk had not read it in full. The speaker said that the clerk had only omitted such parts as were customary, but he directed the clerk to read it in full, which was done, and it disclosed the fact that the silver bill had been received from the senate and referred to the committee on coinage, weights and measures.

Mr. McKibben moved the approval of the journal, and demanded the previous question, despite Mr. Mills' protest that he was entitled to recognition to move a correction of the journal.

Mr. Springer, of Illinois, made the point that the journal contained a record of something which had not happened, and which should not be in the journal.

The speaker replied that this was for the house to decide and directed the clerk to call the roll, which was done, while Mr. Springer, amid applause on the Democratic side, made a vigorous protest, saying to the speaker, "You can ignore the rights of representatives of the people, but the people will put you down at the polls next November and your party with you."

The speaker was unmoved, however, and the roll call proceeded, and resulted: Yeas, 106, nays 117; so the journal was not approved.

The Democrats applauded vigorously. The following named Republicans voted with the Democrats in the negative: Bartine of Nevada, Dehaven of California, Kelly of Kansas, Kerr of Iowa, Lund of Minnesota, Morrow of California and Townsend of Colorado.

When the applause had ceased, the speaker recognized Mr. Mills, who offered a resolution that the order of reference made by the speaker, of the silver bill to the committee on coinage, weights and measures was incorrect, under the rules of the house, and was made without authority under the rules, and resolving that the journal be corrected by striking the entry from it.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, raised a point of order against the resolution. He claimed that the resolution proposed to strike out an entry which recorded a question of fact, and argued that the senate amendments would require to be considered in committee of the whole. No conscientious man could vote to strike out a question of fact.

Mr. Mills, of Texas, characterized Mr. Cannon's position as the boldest, most reckless and absurd position he had ever heard. It showed that a well disciplined mind might become beclouded by starting out in error and continuing that course. Under the constitution the journal was to be kept by the house, not by the speaker or his clerks. Mr. Mills charged the Republican party with being false to its pledges on the silver question. The Democratic party would give the people free and unlimited coinage of silver. The Republican party was voting against the wishes of the people.

Mr. Peters, of Kansas, declared himself a free coinage man, but sustained the speaker's action.

Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, argued that under the rules the speaker had not the power to make the reference he had made. He referred to a decision made by the speaker concerning the Washington postoffice bill, which he held was opposite to the ruling under discussion.

Mr. Springer of Illinois, claimed that the house had a right to revise its journal. The purpose of referring the bill to the committee on coinage was to prevent the house voting on the question of concurrence in the senate amendment.

Mr. Mills made reference to the introduction in the Forty-seventh congress of a revenue bill and its wrong reference.

The journal, however, was corrected.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—After routine business, the resolution offered by Mr. Quay, instructing the outgoing sergeant-at-arms to make no changes in his force, came up, and Mr. Cameron moved a substitute directing the person removed to be appointed an additional page. Both resolutions were referred to the committee on contingent expenses, and the senate resumed consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. During its consideration several omissions and defects were found and corrected.

Mr. Cockrell spoke of a recently published interview with Speaker Reed, in which the latter is reported as "thanking heaven that the house was not a deliberative body." Mr. Cockrell said that might account for the shape in which this and other bills had reached the senate.

The senate debated at some length a point of order made by Mr. Allison against an amendment of Mr. Paddock to increase the salaries of the commissioner and assistant commissioner of the general land office. The question had not been decided when, at 4 o'clock, the bill was laid aside and the message of the president vetoing the bill to change the boundaries of the Uncompahgre Indian reservation was presented, read and referred to the committee on Indian affairs.

Eulogies on the late Representatives Nutting and Wilber, of New York were delivered by senators Evarts and Tuck; the usual resolutions of regret and sympathy were adopted; and, as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the senate, at 4:45, adjourned.

DOWN AN EMBANKMENT.

Accident to a Coach Containing Fifteen Young Ladies.

READING, Pa., June 20.—Thursday morning while fifteen young ladies from the Schuylkill seminary, at Fredericksburg, were on their way to the railroad station at Jonestown in a coach drawn by four horses, some of the harness broke and the animals, becoming unmanageable, plunged down a twenty-foot embankment, throwing the coach and its occupants upon the street.

All the occupants were more or less injured. Miss Kate Mahoney had her nose broken and was badly bruised about the body.

Miss Laura Swahn, of Ashland, was picked up unconscious and seriously hurt.

Miss Lizzie Wanner, of Fleetwood, was injured in the head and face.

Miss Bomberger, of Lebanon, shoulder broke and arm injured.

Miss Walborn, of Mahoney City, arm and shoulder hurt.

William Hark, the driver was cut about the head and seriously injured; he was entangled among the horses and badly trampled.

BLUFFED THE ENUMERATOR,

But Weakened Before the United States Commissioner.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 20.—Mrs. Esther Heaton was arrested yesterday at the instance of a census enumerator for refusing to answer questions. She was asked her age, and replied that she "would not tell Jesus Christ her age."

When the deputy marshal went down to arrest her it was raining very hard, but she kept him outside playing for a half hour, and finally made him read the warrant from where he was.

Then she took another half hour to dress before going to the court room. When she reached the commissioner she said that she would answer the question, and did. She was put under bond of $100.

MARRIED ON THE FLY.

A Columbus, Ind., Professor's Daughter Gives Him the Slip.

COLUMBUS, Ind., June 20.—Isiah P.ather, son of Benjamin Prather, a wealthy and influential grocerman of this city, and Miss Ethel Mobley, daughter of Professor Lewis Mobley, of Harts-ville college, eloped from this place on a late train Wednesday night. A license had been procured and the wedding ceremony was performed on the car steps as the train northbound left the station here. The enraged professor was hotly in pursuit, but was side-tracked by a friend of the young couple.

MISSED A KISS AND DIED.

Neglect of a Custom of Twenty-Four Years Causes a Wife's Suicide.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 20.—During their married life of twenty-four years Thomas Butler, of Taylorville, never failed to kiss his wife before going to work in the morning. Because he would not kiss her Monday morning Mrs. Butler committed suicide by taking Paris green. She leaves nine children.

Vermont Republican Convention.

MONTPELIER, Vt., June 20.—The Republican state convention was called to order at 11 a. m., with 715 of the 730 delegates present. Hon. James L. Martin, of Brattleboro, presided. After the appointment of a committee on resolutions, nominations for governor were in order, and the names of Carroll S. Paige and U. A. Woodbury, the present lieutenant governor, were presented with numerous seconds. The convention then proceeded to ballot which resulted as follows: Necessary for a choice, 365, Paige 386, Woodbury 337, scattering 6. Paige's nomination was then made unanimous.

Shooting Scrape.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 20.—At 6 o'clock yesterday evening several pistol shots were fired in front of the opera house on Main street, and then two men were seen grappling. They were Dr. W. W. Ray, of Congaree, this county, and Trial Justice F. H. Weston, recently appointed. The men are cousins and both are young. Weston was shot in the left side and left thigh, and Ray got a scalp wound. The fring was at close range, the combatants being almost within arm's length. The trouble is reported to be of a private nature.

Defended Her Father.

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 20.—Yesterday Dr. W. J. Hammer, a popular dentist, and his wife, of this city, had a dispute over a trivial matter. The wife called her father, who attempted to act as peacemaker. Dr. Hammer became enraged and knocked the old gentleman down with a cane. Mrs. Hammer seized a revolver from a bureau drawer and shot her husband through the right lung, inflicting fatal injuries. The prominence of the parties adds interest to the affair.

A CORNER IN WATERMELONS

Causes Great Distress Among the Negroes of Memphis.

MEMPHIS, June 20.—Memphis is in the throes of slavery to the Georgia watermelon trust, and the misery of the colored population is appalling. This concern, known as the Georgia and South Carolina Trust association, with headquarters at Atlanta, controls about 90 per cent. of the watermelon product of Georgia and the Carolinas. They sell but to one agent in any city and he distributes the melons. In this way the trust guards against the overstocking of the market and keeps up prices. The pressure will continue until the home crop comes on, which will not be before the middle of July.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1890

The Vanceburg Times says the members of the political ring up there are trembling in their boots. All because the Farmers' Alliance has decided to retire them to private life.

By the way, what has become of all of the "booms"? One rarely ever hears now of Harriman, Somerset, Clay City, Beattyville, Barboursville, Pineville, Winchester, Ashland and the dozens of other "boom" towns.

It is to be hoped the Commercial Club will put forth every effort to secure the cooperative works mentioned a few days ago. An enterprise that will employ seventy-five hands at the start would make things lively all round.

It is announced that President Harrison is "sick and tired" of political life and will not seek to be re-elected. Perhaps he has discerned "the handwriting on the wall." The Republicans will have to fry more "fat" out of the "protected" barons than in 1888 if they hope to elect any one President in 1892.

There are eleven offices to be filled at the approaching August election. A Clerk of the Court of Appeals, a Judge of the Superior Court, a delegate to the Constitutional Convention, a County Judge, Clerk, Attorney, Sheriff, School Superintendent, Jailor, Assessor and Coroner are all to be chosen. Let the full Democratic vote be polled for each of the nominees.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette prints a list of thirteen Pittsburgh millionaires rated at from $3,000,000 to $36,000,000 each, and whose aggregate wealth is $137,000,000. "All these plutocrats made their money in the iron trade," says the Louisville Times "and they accumulated it in such vast amounts because other people, as good as they, were taxed to "protect" them, and are still taxed with that end solely in view. What a pen of porkers that for Quay to "fry fat" out of for 1892."

There are signs of a revolt in the Republican camp against the "bossism" of Reed and the gang at the head of the g. o. p. The Senate dealt the "Dictator" a blow when it struck the free coinage amendment onto the House Silver bill. But this was nothing compared with the action of the House yesterday, when several Republicans voted with the Democrats and refused to sanction Reed's arbitrary reference of the Silver bill to the Coinage Committee. There is hardly any doubt that the better element of the Republicans are getting very "sick and tired" of the Speaker's bossism.

The Paris Record announces that Hon. Emmett M. Dickson, of that city, has declined to enter the race for Judge of the Superior Court. The only candidates in the field at present are Hon. Van B. Young, of Mt. Sterling, and L. W. Robertson, Esq., of this city. Had Mr. Brent withdrawn from the fight during the late convention at Lexington, Mr. Robertson would no doubt have won. Mason County's candidate was in the lead from the start and ought to have had the nomination. And he will undoubtedly receive the honor at the next convention unless some new aspirant enters the lists.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY has for years been one of the Republican strongholds of this State. At the late session of the Legislature the Democrats secured the passage of a registration law for the county, and the registration under this measure indicates that the days of Republican supremacy in that bailiwick are numbered. Indeed the Hopkinsville New Era is satisfied on that point. The registration gives the county 4,166 white voters and 2,880 colored voters. The result of the next election will be awaited with interest. If a good registration law makes a hitherto reliable Republican county Democratic, the experiment will be tried in other strongholds of the g. o. p.

L. W. ROBERTSON.

His Friends Should Bestir Themselves—Comments About the Late Convention at Lexington.

Says the Kentucky Democrat: "Mr. L. W. Robertson, of Mason County, was the leading candidate before the late convention at Lexington for Judge of the Superior Court, and his nomination was prevented by a combination of the Brent and Young forces who adjourned the convention without day. The friends of Mr. Robertson should now bestir themselves and see to it that he does not lose any of the votes cast for him at the recent convention and should use all honorable means to add to his forces the votes of other counties in which he has a strong following.

"Another thing to be watched is the proxy votes, which we are informed were quite a factor in the Lexington convention. We are informed that the proceedings of conventions purporting to have been held in Floyd and Pike counties were presented to the Committee on Credentials in which certain men were made proxies and authorized to cast the vote of these counties in the absence of the delegates named. We are reliably informed that no Democratic conventions were held in these counties to select delegates to attend the Superior Court convention and such proceedings and proxies were not authorized by the Democracy of these counties in convention assembled. Doubtless other proxies were manufactured to fit a niche in the convention. Such frauds should be watched and as far as possible prevented and no convention should permit the nomination of a candidate in whose interests such tricks are resorted to."

The days of stoves in passenger cars on railroads appear to be numbered. Steam heating has now been adopted by eighty companies, which control more than 90,000 miles of road, and the number of cars fitted with the steam apparatus is 7,391, or about one-fourth of the whole number used in the United States. The companies which use steam heat admit that the new method does not cause an appreciable increase of the locomotive's consumption of fuel, while there would be no danger to passengers if the pipes should be ruptured.

One of our exchange figures out the following from the trotting records: Eight yearlings have beaten 2:40. Their combined records average 2:36. Six two-year-olds have records between 2:18 and 2:24, a grand average of 2:21. There are sixteen three-year-olds that have beaten 2:23, whose average record is 2:17. The fastest trotting records at one, two, three and four years old were all made by mares.

Fined Fifty Dollars.

Azro Polly was tried before Judge Coons yesterday on the charge of shooting at Charles Carr with intent to kill. The trouble occurred a few days ago. When the two first quarreled Polly didn't have on his "Sunday clothes," and was without his pistol. The day afterwards they met and the shooting occurred. Carr was not hurt.

At the conclusion of the evidence, the Judge entered up a fine of $50 against Polly. He failed to pay or replevy and was remanded to jail.

A charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons is pending against him, and he will have to answer for this as soon as he serves out his present sentence.

A Lawsuit Over $9.

Charles Eddy is a dairyman, with a farm which lies partly in Swansea and partly in Rehoboth. In Swansea Mr. Eddy has his residence and in Rehoboth he built a barn. The latter structure was erected in 1888, and since then Rehoboth has been trying to tax him for his cows. Said cows are stabled in Rehoboth, but they roam over into Swansea to graze and drink. Swansea also taxes the cows, and Swansea gets the money. Up to date Mr. Eddy has held that the law provided that he must pay taxes on personal property in the town where he lives, without reference to the home of his animals. The amount which Swansea gets on the Eddy cows, and which Rehoboth means to get if she has luck, is exactly $9, and the latter village has brought suit to recover that sum. Mr. Eddy proposes to fight, and the case will probably go to the supreme court.—Providence Journal.

A New Burgess Sloop.

The Gossoon is the name of a new sloop that is soon to slide over the ways from the yard of Messrs. Lawley & Sons and take its place among the fast sloops designed by Mr. Burgess. She is about forty feet in length; the mast is thirty-five feet, and will carry a mainsail, fore-sailsail, jib, jibtopsail and gafftopsail; and when she is dead before the wind can add a spinnaker. The Gossoon is owned by the Messrs. Adams, and is being built to race against the Minerva.—Boston Traveller.

The "alternating mosquito bar" is said to be the name of the latest device for foiling the attempts of the mosquito to disturb one's sleep. During the summer the new device at the "Needles," on the English coast, are to be tested by an elaborate series of experiments. It is proposed to find out whether the Brennan torpedo, for which England paid $500,000, can stop a vessel passing up at full speed, and also if hostile ships could escape the fire from the batteries by keeping close under the cliffs.

John Caldwell has returned from his extended trip to Kansas.

Mrs. Anna Wilson, Miss Mamie Scott and Mr. Joseph Perrie and wife left for Cincinnati last Tuesday morning.

Dr. W. H. Lawwill came down from his new home at Danville last week, looking after his interests and to see his old friends. He has lost his youngest child since he moved.

Miss Ella Metcalfe and Daisy, a bright little daughter of Clarence Stanton, of Maysville, are visiting the family of Frank Pogue.

Miss Jennie Evans left last Tuesday evening for Poplar Plains to visit her aunt, Mrs. Paisey Hart, who is seventy-six years old and is very poorly with the whooping cough.

Uncle Cyrus Bruln, one of our most respected and highly esteemed colored citizens, after a brief illness, died last Tuesday morning in his seventy-eighth year. Funeral and interment in our cemetery. He leaves an aged wife and four children, all good citizens, highly respected and good lives in slave time. He belonged to John A. McClung.

DEALING IN MARGINS.

The Court of Appeals Decides That Trading in "Futures" is Gambling Under the General Statutes.

The Court of Appeals decided this week that all bucket-shop dealing is gambling. The ruling was made in the case of J. W. Lyons versus Hodgen & Miller from Louisville, in which the plaintiff sought to recover $1,600 lost on margin operations.

Chief Justice Lewis in the opinion of the Appellate Court, reversing the decision of Judge Toney of Louisville, holds:

First—Section 1, of article 1, of chapter 47, of the General Statutes, which provides that "every contract, conveyance, transfer or assurance for the consideration in whole or in part, of money, property or other thing, won, lost or bet at any game, sport, pastime or wager, shall be void," embraces gambling in futures; and section 2 of the same article entitles the loser to recover the money of the winner. The process by which the money is won and lost is a "wager" within the meaning of the statute, which was designed to embrace every species of wagering, whether practiced at the time the statute was enacted or since devised.

Second—When there is lost at a wager as much as five dollars at one time the right of the loser to recover it from the winner exists, and he may sue therefor, or for the aggregate amount so lost during a given period, without regard to when the bet or wager was made or how long it was pending and undetermined; the right of action being given to any person who shall lose to another "at one time or within twenty-four hours" five dollars or more.

Following are some of the ingredients used in making the big kettle of burgoo at the late Oddfellows' picnic at Paris: 200 lbs. beef shanks, 1 doz. turtles, 1 bushel onions, 1 bushel potatoes, 1 barrel cabbage, 20 gallons tomatoes, 144 cans corn, 24 cans peas, 12 cans string beans, 10 lbs. rice, 4 bunches carrots, spices, &c.

ON account of the many interruptions caused by sickness during the scholastic year, the Sisters of the Visitation, of Maysville, have decided to limit the invitations to their closing exercises to the parents of the pupils, the clergy and former pupils of the Academy. The exercises will take place Thursday morning, June 26, at 9 o'clock.

REV. F. M. GREGG, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Chicago, will preach next Sunday morning and evening at the Church of the Nativity. His subject in the morning will be "The Fullness of Christ," and in the evening "Christian Socialism, or Christianity Applied to the Social Problems of the Day." Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., to which all are cordially invited.

At the late session, the Legislature made the following appropriations: $20,000 for completing the Feeble-minded Institute; $12,000 for the Frankfort penitentiary; $35,000 used for the cyclone sufferers; about $15,000 in miscellaneous appropriations; $30,000 in the last general appropriation bill, and about $100,000 to pay the expenses of the Constitutional convention. No appropriation was made for the Eddyville penitentiary, or for the insane asylums. Salaries of State officials, including Commonwealth's Attorneys, were increased about $20,000 annually.

A bright and successful business man has this to say about advertising: "Nothing is high that produces a profit. If spending $100 a year in advertising will cause an increased net profit of $200, it is a magnificent return. My experience is that the ratio is much larger. I have tested the matter in every way. I began not advertising at all. Then I tried sign boards on the country roads. They brought in some of the country folk who did not know me before, but did not influence the town people. I tried hand bills, but the distribution was not good unless I sent my own clerk out with them, and that was too expensive. I found that though the hand bills were cheap enough, the cost of the boy's time, and the bills together exceeded that of an equal space and distribution of the newspaper."

MINER'S MAXIMS.

It is true of Shoes as of people—that to know them you must live with them.

Why?

Because things are not what they seem. "A man may smile and smile and be a villain;" a pretty face may hide a scolding tongue; the man, polished in public, may be profane in private. In brief, you can't judge things by the outside. Same way with Shoes. Polish may hide poor material; pretty finish may mask poor work. It's only by living with a Shoe, testing it in foul and fair weather, that you can tell its true character. You know about the confidence man—slick, smart, attractive; has a taking way about him and takes people in. Well, there's a sort of Shoe that is a confidence Shoe—shapely, stylish-looking, attractive, cheap; a taking Shoe. Were you ever taken in by such a Shoe? If so you know all about it. In a short time they are shapeless; all the "pretty" rubs off; they look dreadfully. You never knew before how ugly your feet could look. You didn't buy that kind of Shoe of us. That isn't the kind of Shoe that backs up our record of 58 YEARS SELLING GOOD SHOES.

CLOSE VOTE IN PARLIAMENT.

The Licensing Measure Comes Up in the House of Commons, and Lord Salisbury's Policy Has a Very Narrow Escape—Other Foreign Dispatches.

LONDON, June 20.—Lord Salisbury's government almost met a defeat last night in the house of commons. The house having gone into committee on the licensing bill, the chairman moved that the first clause applying $350,000 to the purchase of licenses stand as part of the bill. The question was put without debate. A division was taken and the clause was carried by the narrow majority of 4 votes, the vote being 228 to 234. The Conservatives cheered the result, but the cheers were drowned by the triumphant shouts of opposition at the narrow escape of the government.

The narrow escape from defeat experienced by the government is explained by a number of Tory members through their attendance at the Ascot races. While this explanation partially accounts for the slender majority by which the clause was carried, it cannot be accepted as final, since it is known that several of the absent Tories would have voted with the opposition on the question. The fact that the absentees disregarded the vigorous whip issued yesterday places them in the position of dodging the question, which they undoubtedly did, and the government's realization of its perilous position, is evidenced in the censure which has been administered to the Tory whips for allowing a division to be taken under the circumstances. It is certain, however, that the ministry will rally its forces sufficiently to avert a similar exhibition of weakness, but the passage of the bill in its present shape is now regarded as extremely unlikely.

Dissatisfied With the Treaty.

LONDON, June 20.—The inhabitants of Heligoland are filled with dismay at the prospect of being handed over to German rule, with the enforced military service and other arbitrary conditions which the transfer will impose upon them, and the tide of protest against the cession of their territory has set in strongly. So general is the opposition to the severance of the island from the British empire and its consequent Germanization should it pass into the hands of the Kaiser's government, that the emigration of its inhabitants on so large a scale as to virtually depopulate the territory is already threatened as a result of parliamentary ratification of the provisions of Lord Salisbury's settlement.

Postmen Appealing to the Public.

LONDON, June 20.—The London postmen have appealed to the public for assistance in demanding relief from the tyrannies of Postmaster General Raikes. Among the demands which they intended to make upon the government are a reduction of their working hours from sixteen to twelve and a change in the rates of pay which shall establish the minimum weekly stipend at twenty-four shillings. Public sympathy is overwhelmingly on the side of the postmen in their differences with the postmaster general, even in the matter of the latter's measures prohibiting postal employees from forming unions for their protection.

Matthews' Last Hope.

LONDON, June 20.—It is now believed that the government has requested Chief of Police Commissioner Monroe to withdraw his resignation with the object of extricating Home Secretary Matthews from the dilemma into which his arbitrary course has drawn him, and there are many indications that he will do so. It is not believed, however, that the withdrawal will be unconditional, but rather that it will be contingent upon government concession to the police of a portion of the benefit which they have hitherto demanded in vain.

Free Traders Surrender.

MADRID, June 20.—A modus vivendi has been proposed by Senor Mora, which meets the approval of the budget committee. The scheme provides for an increase of the customs tariff in order that Premier Sagasta and those Liberals who favor protection may be reconciled. This is practically a surrender of the free trade Liberals.

Bismarck Wants to Be Let Alone.

BERLIN, June 20.—Prince Bismarck informed a deputation of citizens of Druselndorf, who waited on him at Friedrichshagen yesterday, that his health was excellent. He had wished, he said, to remain in office to the end of his days, but he was not allowed to. Now he desired privacy and hoped the people would leave him alone.

Deeds of Vengeance.

CANEA, Crete, June 20.—Very recently three Turkish soldiers and a Cretan Mussulman were ambushed and shot by a number of Christians. In retaliation a party of Mussulmans have already killed one Christian and threaten other deeds of vengeance.

France Willing to Exchange.

LONDON, June 20.—It is stated that France will probably admit the principle of exchanging her fishery rights in Newfoundland in return for absolute control in Sinn and Madagascar.

Extent of the Cholera.

MADRID, June 20.—The sanitary commission investigating the extent of cholera in the province of Valencia reports that it has found eighty cases, forty of which are serious. There were two deaths and two new cases at Bergamin yesterday.

To Remove Louisiana's Capitol.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 20.—By a vote of 9 to 5 the ways and means committee decided to report favorably on the proposed constitutional amendment removing the capital from this city to New Orleans.

BOUND FOR AFRICA.

A Colony of Forty-Nine Negroes Organized in St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 20.—Rev. George Washington Brown, a colored Baptist preacher of this city, has organized a colony of forty-nine negroes, and proposes to set out for the Congo Free State as soon as he can get the funds. He was born in Cairo, Egypt, but in his boyhood lived in the Congo valley. When he was 14 years old he was brought to this country and sold into slavery.

He remained a slave until the close of the war, and since then has been working as a laborer and preaching to the little congregations which gathered together in the communities where he has lived. He has often longed to leave this country and return to the home of his boyhood.

His recollection of the days spent in the valley of which Stanley has written so much contrasts unfavorably with the daily routine of his life here. Knowing that the King of Belgium was interested in the colonization of Africa, Rev. Brown wrote to him to know if he would render assistance in case of need until the colonies had had a year to accustom themselves to their new surroundings.

The king replied in French, but did not encourage the colony. But they are determined to leave for Africa next fall.

Dangerous Place for a Light.

CALAIS, Me., June 20.—Last evening C. A. Lindow, station agent of the New Brunswick railway at St. Stephen, N. B., entered a car containing two iron tanks filled with gasoline and lighted a lantern. A small amount of gasoline from one of the tanks exploded, blew him out of the open door, wrecked the car, smashed all the windows in the vicinity and set fire to the car and freight house. Lindow was badly burned.

Four Men Fatally Injured.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Ky., June 20.—As the Louisville and Nashville yard engine was crossing the trestle near here yesterday afternoon, with eight men aboard, a sandblast threw the box car off the embankment. Four men, William Buckley, brakeman; Thomas Emmett, John Barton and Bill Hale, are thought to be fatally injured.

Pulling Up for a Prize Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—President Ross Jackson, of the Occidental club, announces that he will hang up $2,000 for a fight between Billy Murphy, champion feather-weight of the world, and Jack McAuliffe, champion light-weight. Murphy is willing to put up $500 as a guarantee that he will meet McAuliffe in the ring.

Gone to Join His Trio of Wives.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 20.—Mr. T. H. Rufus committed suicide Wednesday by cutting his throat from ear to ear. He was an old resident and well known physician. He had lost three wives in the last seven years under circumstances which caused much talk, and it is believed this seriously affected his mind.

Killed Under Runaway Cars.

TRENTON, N. J., June 20.—Two men were killed and several others seriously injured by an accident yesterday on the new branch of the Pennsylvania railroad now being constructed between Morrisville and Downingtown, Pa. A gang of men were engaged in grading the new track, and were at the bottom of a hill which dirt was being dumped from a number of flat cars. In some manner six of the cars became detached from the locomotive and ran down the hill at a rapid speed, finally leaving the track, and toppling over where the men were working. Most of the men succeeded in getting out of the way, but two of them, named Murphy and Egoia, were caught by the cars and killed. About a dozen others were injured.

Banco Failure.

WOOSTER, O., June 20.—A well dressed stranger hired a rig of Liveryman Baird and drove to Mr. W. Sherrick's farm. After getting Sherrick out on his farm on the purchasing gag, the stranger and his pal, with a big roll of money, attempted the banco scheme, but Sherrick would not bite. They then stole Baird's rig and skipped out.

Shot in the Neck by a Jealous Husband.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 20.—Moses Reed, who moves in the upper ten of colored society circles, went home last night, and as he entered saw Leonard Page and Mrs. Reed coming from a rear room. The indignant husband drew a revolver and shot Page in the neck, producing a very serious if not fatal wound.

Switchmen's Strike Drawing to a Close.

CLEVELAND, O., June 20.—It is thought that the switchmen's strike is drawing to a close. The Big Four men were granted Lake Shore wages and returned to work yesterday afternoon. Other roads, it is thought, will follow the example of the Big Four within a day or two.
